WHAT TO EXPECT

- A small admission cost will be charged by the host for each house event with the intent of covering the cost of the host's food and beverages and any related party expenses. A cover charge will be required for our bar events to cover the club's food, staff tips and entertainment expenses.
- Every member at an event will be naked. Those who may have temporary health problems may be exempted from this rule and may be partially dressed if they notify the Steering Committee. Footwear is encouraged at house parties but is mandatory at bar events. For health reasons, the host of the event may elect to designate a smoking area in a private area outside his home or not allow it at all.
- Reservations to any event cannot be made before the official email announcement is sent to the members by the Steering Committee.
- Each member can bring one guest to a house event (if the host has room) and his guest must agree to follow all B&G rules, as well as to display basic courtesies. That guest must join the club at that event or afterwards to attend any future house events. This rule does not apply to the host. At bar events there is no restriction on the number of guests.
- The host will obtain a membership list from the club prior to the date of his event to ensure only members and their guests are attending.
- The club's success is measured by its members' ability to host house parties. If you can host, you are encouraged to do so.
- Each member must have a valid email address to receive B&G notices. There is no other method of event notification and there are no post office mailings.
- You are encouraged to promote the club and solicit new members by directing them to our website www.bandgofct.org or have them contact us by email at bandgct@gmail.com
